

I am writing because I am concerned that this action may water down the existing call list that I am on in Indiana. We signed up for the Indiana telephone privacy law because we were tired of the unsolicited calls we were getting. The list has worked perfectly I don't have to try to politely tell a telemarketer that I don't want a free trial subscription to whatever monthly or have to tell one that I am not interested it windows for my new house. As I mentioned the list has worked perfectly. I think it would be a joke if anything was done on the federal level to mess up a state law that has worked so well. Leave well enough alone!!

Thank you
